How green are your valleys, how blue your great skies,

Your mountains stand tall in their glo-ry:

Your rivers run free - the bright stars are your eyes,

Your beauty is endless bef-ore me.

Oh, you are the song ever singing in me,

And you are the heart ever true:

For, you are my land and you always will be,
G C G D7 G
The voice ever calling me... home to you.

G D C D7 G
When times we are far from your forests and streams,
Bm7 Em C D7
When sailing from your shining wat-ers:

We carry your hopes - your spirit, your dreams-
G C G D7 G
In the hearts of your sons and your daughters.

[Chorus]

When to your green valleys some day I return,
Bm7 Em C D7
When you lay your mantle aro-und me:
G D7 G D7
At rest I will be where the heart will not yearn,

With my land to ever...sur-round me.

[Chorus]

G C G D7 G
The voice ever calling me...home to you.
